

Integrator 'd2' is official digital cinema partner of the 67th Venice Film Festival.

Venice, 3rd August 2010.

The island Lido is from 1 to 11 September hosting the 67th International Venice Film Festival. d2 is official digital cinema partner of the Mostra Internazionale D'Arte Cinematografica.

d2 is over 10 year active in distribution, design, installation and maintenance of technology for post production & digital cinema. Next to its partnerships (with Qube Cinema and 3D technology from XpanD), d2 has invested in recent year in own workflow management and digital cinema tools including 3D integration.

Its strong ICT and cinema background allows d2 to create integrations between point of sale, digital projection and other departments of cinema companies.

James Troch, founder of d2 "This selection is an important milestone that values our expertise and efforts. De Italian passion for film motivated is in creating our first foreign office in Italy. The positive results of d2 italia confirm that Italia exhibitors appreciate our added value and innovative approach."

d2 is distributor of cinema and post-production technology of the American Qube Cinema Inc. For this festival edition, d2 uses digital cinema servers from Qube Cinema.

Mostra Internazionale D'Arte Cinematografica is the cinema department of the Biennale di Venezia. 2010 is the 67st edition of this international film festival with following jury: Tarantino (president), Arriaga, Dapkunaite, Desplechin, Elfman, Guadagnino, Salvatores. More info www.labiennale.org

d2 is a European digital cinema integrator and part of Digital Darwin. www.d2.eu
